Insight on Our Foresight Logo

“As a child growing up in Philadelphia, we visited Independence Hall each year as part of our history lesson. Back then, we were able to walk into the room where the Declaration of Independence and the US Constitution were debated, written and signed. I remember being fascinated by the chair the President Washington sat upon. The tour guides told us a story about the chair.

At the conclusion of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, Benjamin Franklin rose and said, “I have often looked at that behind the president without being able to tell whether it was rising or setting. But now I... know that it is a rising... sun.”

I embraced this story during my young life. How incredible to be able to think of an image that would fuel someone as powerful as Ben Franklin and George Washington. When I created Foresight, the advertising firm we hired recommended many different logo options. I knew I wanted a rising sun to shine on my future.”
